Canning House's Mission

75 years promoting relations between the UK and Latin America & Iberia

Whether you are looking to enter Latin America or Iberia for the first time, seeking to expand into new markets, or working to grow a well-established business, we are in an expert position to help and advise.

Canning House is:

- the UK's leading forum for information, events and contacts on Latin American and Iberian politics, economics and business
- the principal convenor of decision makers from governments, regional organisations, politics, academia and business
- the foremost UK source of expert knowledge and understanding for developing unparalleled relationships between the UK and Latin America & Iberia

It is our mission to support the creation and growth of sustainable business relationships between the UK and Latin America & Iberia. No other forum in the UK is better placed to help businesses of all sizes understand the risks and opportunities of trading and investing in these complex but dynamic regions.
